Introduction

The following is a reference chart of the Arabic Pronouns. I wanted to compile something brief yet concise for my family to benefit from during their Arabic studies. I based this off some of the well known texts such as al-Aajurroomiyyah, Qatar-un-Nadaa, and Mulhat-ul-'Iraab and then simplified it using visual charts.

After thorough study of this chart you will have the ability to know and understand how the Arabic pronoun works within the language. I ask that all who find benefit from this chart to make Duaa' for me and ask Allah to forgive me, and to increase me in knowledge, guidance, and sustenance, indeed He is the Noble, the Generous.

Your brother in Islaam, the weak one,
Aboo 'Imraan al-Mekseekee

The Arabic language has twelve personal pronouns divided into three categories; 1st Person, 2nd Person, and 3rd Person. They are considered nouns and stand alone:

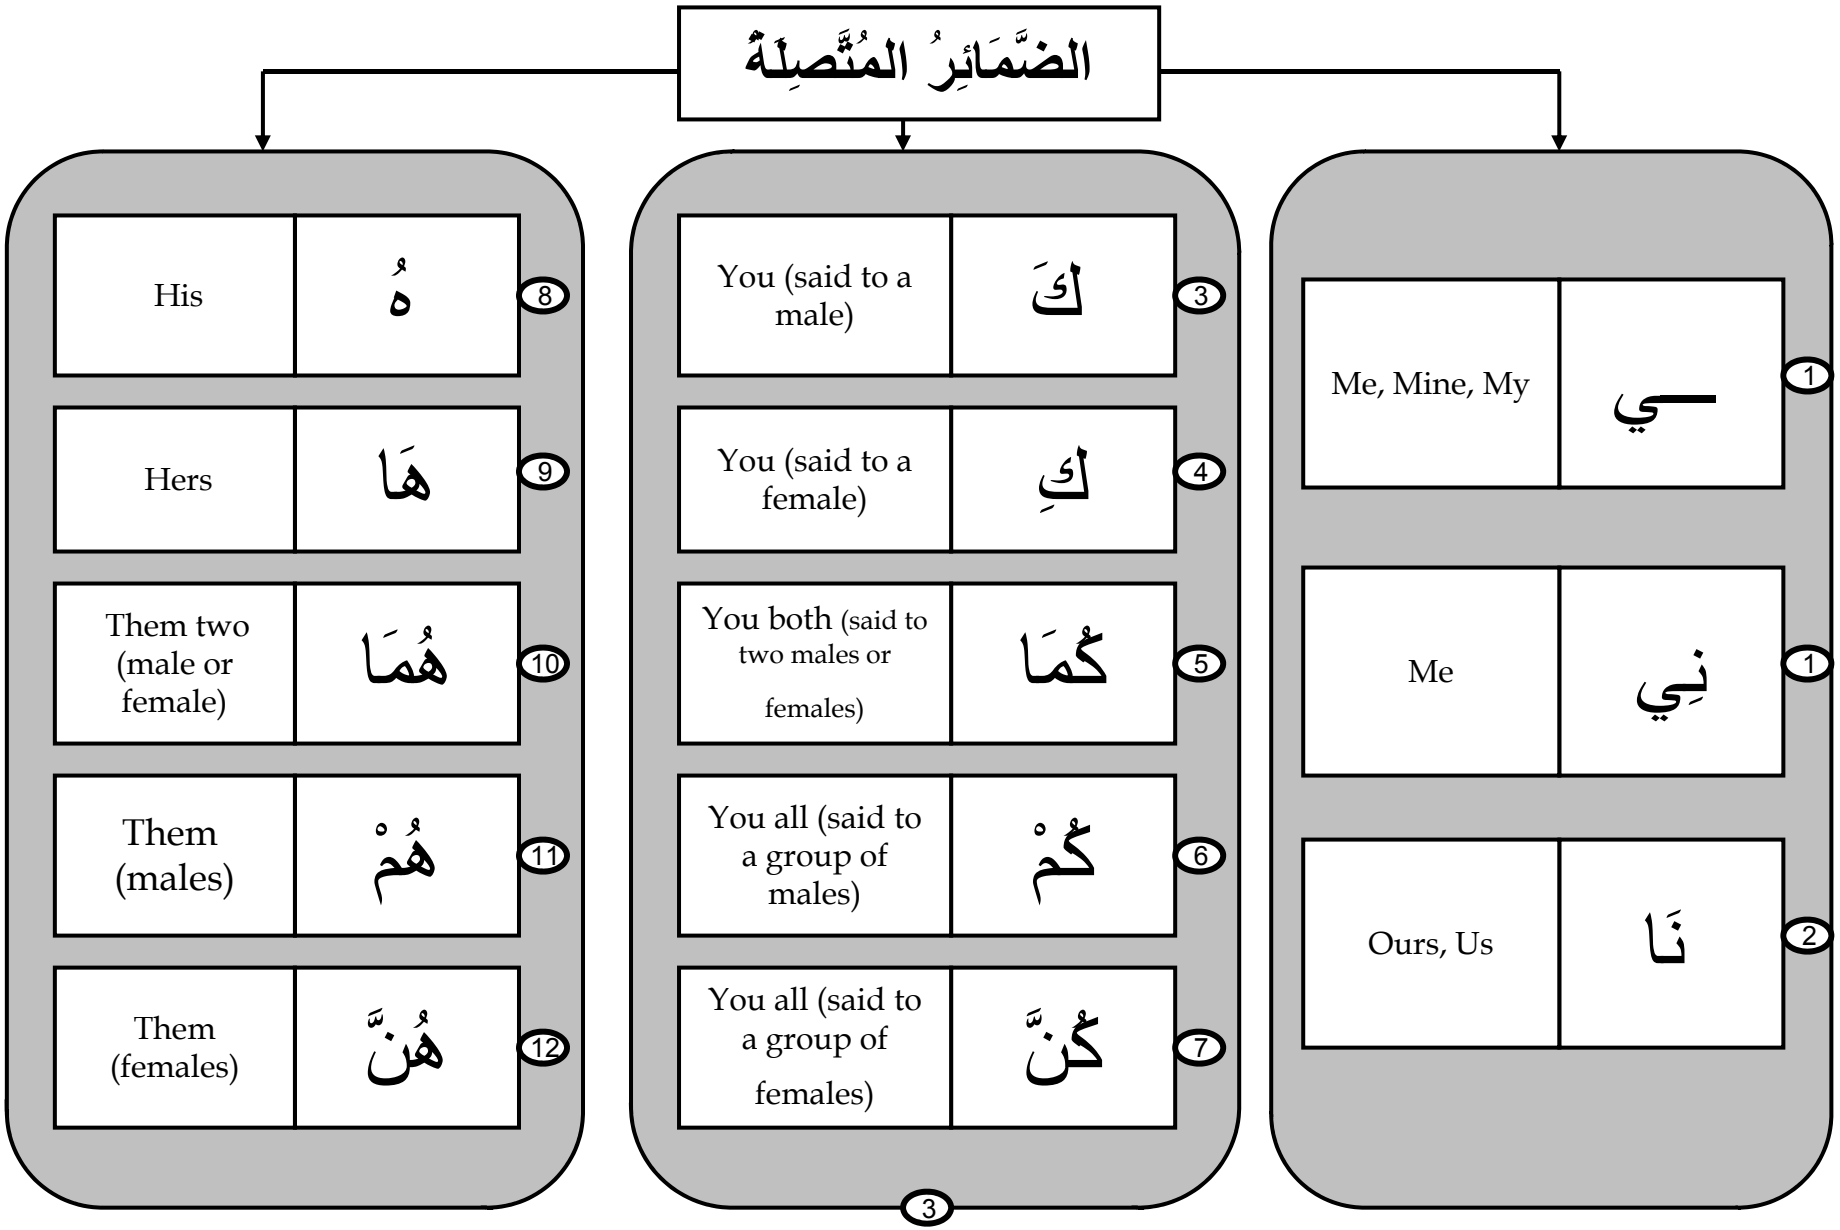

Here are several examples showing how the pronouns are used in a sentence:

نَحْنُ	مُسْلِمُوْنَ	We are Muslims.

أنْتَ	مُسْلِمٌ	You are a Muslim. (male)
أنْتُمَا	مُسْلِمَانِ	You both are Muslims. (male)
